

ZhengQY

This is a white-on-black PCB layout for a keyboard. The layout is rectangular with rounded corners and features several circular mounting holes. The design includes a central controller area with two large horizontal bars and a bottom section with two large vertical bars. The top section contains two large ovals and several squares. Numerous circular pads are arranged in rows along the edges and around the components. The text 'ZhengQY' is located in the top left corner.